Copyright is hereby transferred to National Academy of Sports Medicine, LLC ("NASM") effective if and when the article is accepted for publication in the NASM Journal of Fitness, Wellness, & Human Performance; if the manuscript is not accepted, the copyright reverts to the author(s). This transfer of copyright gives NASM the exclusive right to place the article in various electronic forms in addition to any printed journal. Those forms include, but are not limited to, publication in the journal's "in press" and final online versions on the journal's Web site and in various online databases.

These rights encompass the article in its entirety, including original tables, figures, and any supplementary material that may be part of the final published article. For authors who are employees of the U.S. Government, the transfer of copyright is understood to be effective only to the extent that such copyright is transferable.

The authors explicitly reserve the following rights:

- All proprietary rights other than copyright, such as patent rights.
- The right to use all or part of this article in future works of their own, such as dissertations, lectures, reviews, or textbooks: provided, however, that any reuse of more than 25% of the copyrighted materials is attributed as follows: "Initially published in the NASM Applied Fitness & Health Journal, © National Academy of Sports Medicine, LLC available at [\[link to article\]](#)."
- The right to make copies for their own teaching use.
- The right to use original figures and tables in future publications, provided explicit acknowledgment is made of their initial appearance in this journal as defined above.
- The right to post an electronic version of the final manuscript, as accepted for publication, on the authors' own Web site or Web site(s) or other electronic repositories controlled by the authors' institution, provided that the electronic version is in PDF or another image-capturing format. The posted version must contain the words "As accepted for publication in NASM Applied Fitness & Health Journal, © National Academy of Sports Medicine, LLC" and include the DOI link to the article or, if no DOI is available, a URL link to the article's abstract page.

Through signature below, the undersigned author (a) signifies acceptance of the terms and conditions listed above; (b) affirms that written permission has been obtained for all previously published and/or copyrighted material contained in this manuscript and any supplemental materials for print and online publication, as well as any other requisite permissions or releases, and that all such material has been clearly identified in the manuscript; (c) affirms that the manuscript is an original work of authorship that has not been previously published, does not infringe any third party's intellectual property rights, and does not contain any material that is defamatory or libelous; and (d) affirms that he/she is authorized to sign this form on behalf of all authors. (In the case of a work made for hire, the below may be signed by the employer.)
